

PARENT AND FAMILY RELATIONS COUNCIL
FEBRUARY 16, 2010

Instead of the traditional PFRC meeting, the Council was invited to attend the Mardi Gras Madrigal Dinner presented by the Goliard Society of Medievalists.

The evening began with the crowning of royalty and the fool!

The terrific feast table, which included chicken, garlic brussel sprouts, oven baked rosemary potatoes, cheeses, crackers and bread was open to all. In true medieval style, the feast was eaten without utensils.

We were treated to music on medieval-type instruments, as well as music from the choirs of St. Francis, Minnetonka and Augsburg.

Andrew Fox recited an Old English prologue from “The Summoner’s Tale” by Geoffrey Chaucer.

A sing-along of “Sumer is icumen in” concluded the evening.
